

My local radio station K-LOVE is in danger of possibly being replaced by the LPFM stations if they are allowed to take priority over current translator service. KLOVE, which is listener supported, provides me and many others with current updates of local and national news and information on local events. This type of station is a rarity in this day and age. Their service to my community as well as others needs to be preserved.